

Visa Agencies

Visa agencies can be used for getting your documents authenticated, as well as acquiring your Z-visa. Visa agencies are an excellent resource when you are not located near a Chinese embassy/consulate and the distance is too far to travel. Below we will list some agencies that some of our teachers have used in the past to obtain their document authentications and Z-visas.

Costs and available services vary from agency to agency, so do shop around and if you have any questions your recruiter will be able to help you out.

This list is not exhaustive, just based on our previous experiences.
